“Tackling the Challenge of Making Math Fun”

Presenter: Lucy Marotta, Math Specialist

Competency in math is necessary to survive in modern life. Developing math skills early on is a strong predictor of school success. Join me and learn strategies/activities that will create fun family time, make math enjoyable, and help your child grow mathematically.

"There Are No Silly Questions"

Presenters: Nicole Haas and Elizabeth Matthews, Jefferson Parents

A great way for new or even veteran Jefferson families to exchange information about our school and their children's day.

How do I pick up my child early?

What does my child do during recess on a rainy day?

What groups, events or activities are available for us?

Come join us for answers to these questions and bring some questions of your own. Get to know Jefferson by joining in on the discussion.

“Understanding the NYS Common Core Grade 3 and Grade 4 ELA & Mathematics Exams”

Presenter: Valerie Capitulo-Saide, Principal

Bring your third or fourth grade child along to this workshop. Parents and students will acquire information regarding the grade 3 and 4 ELA and mathematics assessments which will include the structure, number of test items and test time. Parents and students will have fun answering comprehension questions and math problems together.

Presentations in Spanish:

“Consejos para los padres: Como Ayudar con Las Tareas”

Presentadora: Dra. Garris, Psicóloga Escolar

Las tareas son importantes pero no es fácil siempre ayudar a los niños con sus tareas especialmente si no se puede comunicar bien en inglés. Voy a presentar algunas ideas de cómo usted puede hacer que las tareas se vuelvan algo más fácil para todos — y recuerde que su participación es la clave para el éxito de su hijo/a, ¡sea en español o inglés!

“La Conexión de Escuela y Casa”

Presentadora: Gisselle Soto, Trabajadora Social

Estar conectados con la escuela y el maestro (a) de su hijo. Maneras importantes para mantenerse conectado y como las tareas pueden ayudar a desarrollar habilidades de aprendizaje permanente.

“No Se Desafien; Aprendan como ayudar a sus hijos aprender las matemáticas en una forma divertida”

Presentadora: Lucy Marotta, Maestra de matemáticas

Competencia en matemáticas es necesario para sobrevivir en la vida moderna. Entre mas temprano se desarrollo habilidades matemáticas; mayor éxito escolar tendaran sus hijos. Únanse a mí y aprendan estrategias y actividades que va a crear tiempo divertido para su familia, mientras que ayudan a su hijos crecer matemáticamente.
