WESTERN SUFFOLK BOCES REGIONAL PUBLIC SCHOOL ENROLLMENT 2008-2017

While the secondary grade configuration has shown overall growth from 2008 to 2014, the decline in the number of elementary and middle school students during those years resulted in an overall 6.9% decline in enrollment in the Western Suffolk BOCES region—from a period high of 89,532 students in 2008 to 83,336 students in 2014. In 2014, Smithtown remains the largest district, with 9,704 students, while Babylon is the smallest district, with 1,631 students.

Enrollment patterns vary across the region. Between 2013 and 2014, there were enrollment increases in three districts: Copiague (2.7%), Huntington (1.8%) and Wyandanch (8.1%), while the enrollment in Amityville, North Babylon and South Huntington remained stable (change of less than 1%). Enrollment declined approximately 1.2% - 4.0% in the remaining 12 districts. For the six years between 2008 and 2014, the greatest gains were seen in Amityville (15.1%) and Wyandanch (17.6%), while the greatest losses were seen in Commack (13.4%) and Kings Park (13.3%).

Overall regional enrollment is projected to decline by 5,396 students (6.5%) over the next three years as lower enrollments in the elementary and middle grades progress through the system. The number of births in Suffolk County declined from 21,252 in 1990 to 15,521 in 2013 (preliminary data). Smaller kindergarten classes replaced larger exiting twelfth grade classes each year since 2008. As these smaller cohorts continue to move through the system, losses are projected in elementary, middle and secondary grade enrollment from 2014 to 2017. These trends are consistent with those noted in previous studies.

Gains or losses in enrollment are largely reflective of housing activity; new housing construction or re-sale of existing homes are important factors when analyzing potential school enrollment. Records between 2007 and 2012 showed a decline in housing sales in the three towns - Babylon (38%), Smithtown (26%) and Huntington (14%). However, there are indications that the market is stabilizing, but at a lower level than seen in the early 2000's. When comparing the number of units sold from 2012 to 2013, the three towns saw increases: Babylon (31.6%), Huntington (28.3%) and Smithtown (36.2%). The median sales price increased in Huntington (5.9%) and Smithtown (5.0%), while the median sales price remained stable in Babylon.

- The elementary (K - 5) enrollment fell by 12.5% between 2008 and 2014. The enrollment is projected to decline by 7.4% over the next three years, with a decrease of 2,589 students between 2014 and 2017.
- The middle grades (6 - 8) enrollment fell by 8.6% between 2008 and 2014. The enrollment is projected to decline by 6.6% over the next three years, with a decrease of 1,295 students between 2014 and 2017.
- The secondary (9 - 12) enrollment increased by 0.6% between 2008 and 2014. The enrollment is projected to decline by 5.2%, or 1,467 students between 2014 and 2017.

The Western Suffolk BOCES Office of School Planning & Research has conducted Comprehensive Long Range Planning Studies for over 125 school districts during the past five years. Comprehensive Long Range Planning Studies include analysis of demographic factors that have influenced historical enrollment or can impact future enrollment. These factors include population, housing, economy, and non-public school attendance.
